

We are currently looking to onboard about 75 people for a short-term gig
Work from home

Inbound calls for an information line, for a provincial election

Rate is about $15-$17/hour – possibly can be negotiated depending on if they are coming on as independent contractors – or as employees (that is now an option).

Need people immediately and at least through to June 7th. Some of those will get an opportunity to stay on for other more permanent projects (though the rate may not be as high – depending on the project).

Applicants would require:

Quiet, professional workspace (no outside noise like kids, dogs, tv, etc.)

Any bilingual (French English) is an asset, but not required – good oral communication is required.

Need Internet, computer, and either a good headset or a phone.

Need availability 11am – 4 pm (there are some spots available for later in the day and weekends as well).

Send resume to:
